

KEEPING OUR PROMISES IN GOVERNMENT

- ✓ We're cutting the deficit through the toughest public spending reductions since the War
- ✓ We've capped welfare payments and are reforming the benefits system to ensure that work always pays
- ✓ We vetoed the EU Treaty and changed the law so new powers can't be passed to Brussels without a referendum
- ✓ We're reforming our schools and NHS to raise standards and put professionals back in charge
- ✓ We're bringing in an annual cap on immigration
- ✓ The biggest ever cash increase in the state pension from April 2012

We're clearing up Labour's mess and building a fairer and more responsible Britain.

Conservatives

MORE MONEY IN YOUR POCKET WITH THE CONSERVATIVES

Conservatives believe in cutting taxes for hard working families. Because of the tough decisions we are taking to sort out the mess left by Labour, in this year's Budget we announced the biggest ever increase in the tax free personal allowance.

This means an additional tax cut of up to £220 for thousands of taxpayers in Burgess Hill from April 2013 - a total tax cut of £546 since the general election.

From April next year, ordinary hard working people across the country will not pay a penny of income tax on anything they earn under £9,205, taking 2 million people on the lowest incomes out of tax altogether.

Locally, Conservative Councillors have frozen the Council Tax charged by the County and District Councils for the second year.

The Council Tax freeze means the average family is £45 better off compared to a typical increase.

By cutting income tax and freezing Council Tax, thousands of hard working people in Burgess Hill are better off with the Conservatives.

INTRODUCING DAN AIRS

Town Councillor Neil Lawrence has unfortunately been forced to resign his seat as his employer is requiring him to move abroad for work.

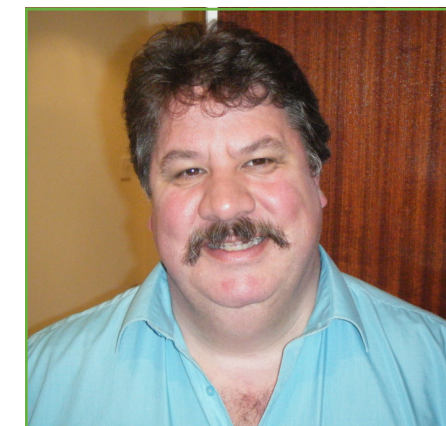

Neil's move was entirely unforeseen and he greatly regrets not being able to continue to serve Meeds North residents.

A by-election will be held on Thursday 10th May and Burgess Hill Conservatives have chosen local resident Dan Airs to represent them.

Dan has lived in Burgess Hill for 20 years. He is married to Kate and the couple have two grown up children.

Having spent a wide ranging career in public service and finance, Dan now works in the railway industry giving him first hand experience of the problems faced by commuters.

He is chairman of Southdown Rovers and is passionate about the local community, youth services and education provision.

A YEAR OF ACTION FOR MEEDS NORTH

After years when nothing got done locally, Conservatives are delivering for residents in Meeds North

Cllr Anne Jones meets campaigner Dan Airs to discuss local issues in Meeds North.

Improving Burgess Hill's playgrounds

■ A £50,000 upgrade of the playground in Queens Crescent is on its way after Cllr Anne Jones won funding for improvements.

Campaigner Dan Airs says: "Seven Burgess Hill playgrounds have been refurbished in the last few years which is great news for children and families in the town".

Tackling parking and speeding problems

■ Every town has its share of parking and speeding problems, but they are big concerns in Meeds Ward. Too many roads are congested with commuter cars and there are too many rat runs.

Cllr Anne Jones is continuing to work with residents to ensure improvements are made where possible and Dan Airs is keen to hear residents' views about what the key priorities are.

Working to make St John's Park safer for families

■ Many residents have raised concern about anti-social behaviour in St John's Park which is spoiling the enjoyment of the area for local families. Conservative Councillors are working with the police and Council to take action. Cllr Anne Jones says: "It's important that a small minority don't spoil things for the majority of residents".

Dan Airs' priorities for Meeds North Ward

Dan Airs has several years experience of working with young people in both sports and arts and he wants to ensure the best possible facilities and services for youngsters in Burgess Hill.

Dan also believes that great quality education and active community policing are vital for the town and is working with Cllr Anne Jones on all of these issues.

He is keen to work in partnership with local businesses and community groups to get the best possible deal for the town and looks forward to meeting even more residents over the next few weeks.

May 10th is a great opportunity to elect a caring and passionate local resident to the Town Council to help the Conservative team create a brighter Burgess Hill.
